I have started including maps this issue. Please look at them and give me any comments that you might have. If you have suggestions on how to improve them, let me know. If there are mistakes in unit positions on the map, please refer to the moves. They are the correct positions. I may make mistakes on the maps.

There seems to have been some trouble with the post office (so what's new) in the last couple of months. Some letters have been taking a week or longer to get to me. I suggest that you mail as early as possible. If you call and my answering machine is on, talk fast if you have a lot of moves.

Thank you for all the support about the computer. I know that it is a dumb machine and only does what you tell it to do. Maybe I will try it again in a future issue.

I am enclosing a copy of the 1985 Runestone Poll. There are two pages for instructions and two pages of ballots. If I should forget to enclose any of these, please let me know. Please take the time to read it over and vote for those zines you receive (Note: The Appalachian General is third on the list. Hint.) As an extra incentive, I will give those that vote a credit for a mailing for TAG. Just let me know you voted, I will take your word for it. VOTE! IT IS YOUR PATRIOTIC RIGHT AND DUTY!!!

Game Openings: Civilization - 3.00 + Sub Last time offered Civ. deals with the progression of mankind from the Stone Age to the Metal Age. Civ. occurs by gaining population, urbanizing, and acquiring things such as agriculture, writing, engineering, etc.
Players must be reliable. Game ownership is not required, but it would help a lot.

*India will be out if they disband A Inn; they will have one center if they retreat to Pek and will then disband one.

@Italy will have her units removed accoring to the Diplomacy rule book, unless a replacement has been found.

@ and ¢ - A mistake was found from last turn. The unit in Cluj is a Turkish army, not an Italian army. This means that Italy has only 4 supply cnters, not 5. Turkey has 15 supply centers, not 14. I am sorry for the mistake.

PRESS

Excerpts from the Presidents address to a special emergency joint session of Congress, 16 March 1912: "The present threat posed to our great nation and our loyal allies both in this hemisphere and beyond by the calumny and treachery of Great Britian and the Union of South Africa is grave indeed; it is perhaps the cruelest test faced by these United States since the great War between the States. But we must not despair. We must remember that our cause is just, and that in time the other powers will come to see the great threat posed to their safety and interests by these two aggressors...The road will be long and difficult, and at times the obstacled may seem insurmountable, but in the end I am certain that the virtues of democracy and freedom shall prevail."

Washington Post, May 4th, 1912: "Scattered reports coming in from north northern New Jersey, New York, and the New England states indicate that even in this dark hour Americans ~~have~~ not lost their national spirit. A scant two months after the dastardly British seizure of New York City and Boston, groups of outraged citizens have organized into units of 'Minutemen' to give armed resistance to the British invaders. The name recalls those valiant men who risked their lives, their fortunes, and their sacred honor for what they believed in during those equally dark days of 1775 and 1776; let us draw our inspiration from them."

London Times -17 October 1912- The Royal College of Botany has announced an exciting new discovery: A new race of oriental - the Amerijap. The foreign office, learning of this, immediately declared war on all existing Japs, "whether they call themselves Nips, or Americans, they're all bloodthirsty barbarians to us!"
